■ You've heard of poets and you've heard of bikers, but biker poets? Why not? Jean Howard, from Chicago, will be bringing her lyrical view of life from the back of a bike to LOVE, LUST AND MOTORCYCLES, a silent auction and exhibit. Joining her will be Chicago performance/biker poet Rob Van Tuyle and from Salt Lake, Northern Arapaho and Seneca Indian artist and performer, Dallin Maybee. Howard's poetry has appeared in Harper's Magazine and the Chicago Tribune, to name a couple. Here's a Howard poem excerpt to salivate over: "The sharp line of the highway/runs its stitch/through and through/Our rear-view mirror/a glass bead/on its thread. /Behind us, a trinket of Time." Love, Lust and Motorcycles © Salt Lake Art Center, 20 S.
